

ICC/GLRC Faculty Research Fellowships

The Institute of Computing and Cybersystems and the Great Lakes Research Center are accepting applications for Faculty Research Fellowships for fiscal year 2025. Through this award, tenure-track faculty will be able to buy out of a course during the Fall 2024 and/or Spring 2025 semesters. In return, fellows will perform preliminary research and experiments in support of new research, develop and submit proposals to external funding opportunities, and report their activities and achievements to ICC and/or GLRC. Subsequent awards following the fellowship will run through ICC and/or GLRC to support ongoing member support activities.

Reviews for applications will begin on Monday, April 15, 2024. Submissions after this point -will be reviewed on pending funding availability.

Required Documents	Page Limit
Cover Sheet , including the funding agencies, opportunities, solicitations, and deadlines for proposals you plan to submit during the fellowship	1 page
Description - Describe how the fellowship will enable proposal submissions and greater project contributions as well as how your proposed work relates to the goals of the ICC and/or GLRC	1 page
Budget requirements for course buyout, including any secured cost share (e.g., from department, college, or other entities) - ICC/GLRC support for faculty fellowships can be no more than $15,000; level of cost-share is an important consideration for funding decisions	0.5 page
List of expected/potential team members in supported research	0.5 page
Letter of Support from supervising chair or dean	1 page

Particularly encouraged elements include interdisciplinary teams, teams including external collaborators, and a clear connection to growing the relevant research community at Michigan Tech. Applicants should consider as a general benchmark submission of a minimum of three funding proposals totaling more than $2 million, although more proposals and larger funding amounts are encouraged as are creative pursuits or funding opportunities outside of this general benchmark.

Please email glrc-icc-admin-1@mtu.edu for questions. For full consideration, submit a faculty fellowship application by 11:59 PM on Sunday, April 14, 2024. Applications received after this deadline may be reviewed pending available funds.
