

Michigan Technological University

Lecturer in Economics

The School of Business and Economics at Michigan Technological University invites applications for a full-time position of Lecturer (non-tenure track) in the area of Economics starting August 2010.

The ability to teach a variety of undergraduate courses including principles of economics and intermediate micro and macro is highly desirable. A PhD is desirable but exceptional candidates with a masters degree and candidates near completion of their PhD will be considered. Candidates should send (1) a letter of application describing qualifications for the position, (2) a current CV, (3) a list of references, and (4) a one page summary statements describing teaching experience. To receive full consideration, applications should be received by December 30, 2009. The position is contingent on final budget approval and will remain open until filled.

The School of Business and Economics (www.mtu.edu/business) offers bachelors and masters degrees in business and economics (including an MS in Applied Natural Resource Economics and an MBA), and is a growing, research-oriented School that encourages discovery-based learning and linkages between business and technology. The School offers competitive salaries and attractive benefits.

Michigan Tech (www.mtu.edu), established in 1885, is a nationally recognized research university and a leader in science and engineering education. Michigan Tech ranks in the top tier of national universities, according to U.S. News & World Report's latest edition of America's Best Colleges. Michigan Tech is located in Michigan's scenic Upper Peninsula, on the south shore of Lake Superior. Houghton and the surrounding Keweenaw Peninsula are well known for natural beauty and abundant outdoor activities in all seasons. Recently, Houghton was ranked in "The 100 Best Small Towns in America." Houghton provides a unique setting where natural beauty, culture, education and the diversity of residents from around the world come together to provide a superb living experience.

Michigan Tech is an ADVANCE institution, one of a limited number of universities in receipt of NSF funds in support of our commitment to increase diversity and the participation and advancement of women in STEM. We also have a Dual Career Assistance Program (DCAP), which facilitates the hiring of partners of strategic hires. The website for our DCAP is: <http://www.dual.mtu.edu/>. <http://www.dual.mtu.edu/>

In addition to the present search, strategic faculty hiring initiatives with up to ten new positions in "Next Generation Energy Systems" and "Health: Basic Sciences, Technologies, and Medical Informatics" are under way and qualified candidates are encouraged to send a separate application, following the "How to Apply" guidelines at <http://www.mtu.edu/sfhi> .

All inquiries and application materials should be sent electronically to the Economics Search Committee at sbe-search@mtu.edu.

Minorities and women are especially encouraged to apply
Michigan Technological University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer