Applications are accepted for fall (August) and spring (January) semesters. Admission to Michigan Tech is selective and each student is reviewed on an individual basis.

Is there an application fee?
No. It’s free to apply to Michigan Tech.

Should I apply as an international student?
If you are currently in the United States under a visa category (F, J, L, or other), you should apply for admission as an international student. If you are in the process of applying for permanent residency, you are considered an international student until your permanent residency is approved.

When should I apply?
You are encouraged to apply by the following dates:

When will I get a decision?
Admission decisions are generally made within two weeks after all application materials have been received.

What English language proficiency exam scores do I need to be admitted?
Admission requirements vary by program, but we typically look for one of these minimum test scores. (Test scores may be waived based on country of origin and/or prior study in the US. See website for details.)

- TOEFL: 79 internet-based exam
- IELTS: 6.5 overall/6.0 minimum on speaking and writing
- SAT: 510 evidence-based reading and writing

What do I need to submit?

- Completed online application
- Official high school transcripts or mark sheets. You must include your most recent three years of grades. Transcripts must come directly from each/all of the schools attended
- Official English language proficiency exam results (unless waived)
