Academic Misconduct Data

The number of academic misconduct cases increased by 29% during the 2022-2023 academic year. There were 120 cases of cheating reported in one Chemistry class. This was a huge contributor to the significant increase in the number of cases this past academic year. There also has been growing concern regarding the impact generative artificial intelligence (ChatGPT). Efforts are underway to help educate faculty and students on the ethical use of artificial intelligence with teaching and academic work.
