

When a student initiates notification, the following email is sent to the instructor:

The image shows a screenshot of an email client interface. At the top, there is a toolbar with icons for download, alert, trash, folder, tag, and a 'More' dropdown menu. Below the toolbar, the email title is 'Accommodation Notification' and the sender is 'Michigan Tech Disability Services <deanofstudents@mtu.edu>'. The email was received at '10:59 AM (3 minutes ago)'. The recipient is 'to me'. The email content is as follows:

Dear [REDACTED]

A student in your class has provided appropriate documentation to Student Disability Services for accommodations of a disability in accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act. The accommodations are based on the impacts of the student's disability. If you require clarification of these accommodations, please email me at deanofstudents@mtu.edu. The student is in the following course:

BL3970-0A (CRN 51955)

Please click the link below to view their approved accommodations:

Please note that this email is automatically generated upon the student's request. Students are advised to notify their instructors of accommodations at least 5 days in advance of using their accommodations in the classroom. If you are receiving this email with fewer than 5 days notice, you are encouraged, but not obligated, to meet the accommodation request.

Thank you,

Christy Oslund, PhD
