“Proposal to Shelve EMPD Product Design Minor”

Proposal to Shelve a Program

June 2013

The MEEM Department proposes that the following program be shelved:

EMPD Product Design Minor

The final term the program will be open for new admits will be Fall 2012.

Currently enrolled students and any returning students who are currently in the program will be accommodated by course substitutions if required.

This minor was in place as part of the General Motors Undergraduate Distance Learning program (BSE). That program has been discontinued. As a result many of the courses that supported that minor are no longer taught.

There is no financial impact to the department or the university.
