Operations Assistant/Counselor

Position Description

The Basics

Operations Assistants, often called Operations Counselors, are jacks-of-all-trades. They bounce from task to task with no two days being quite the same. They work closely with Professional and Lead Staff ensuring operations are flowing smoothly. No job is too odd. Able to keep the larger picture in mind, they take initiative, calling attention to details needing improvement or adaptation and anticipate needs of staff to ensure SYP is running at the highest efficiency possible. Operations Assistants do not commonly work with participants but aren't afraid to lend a hand to participants in need. Operations Assistants are reliable and skilled in time management, ensuring tasks are completed on time with minimal supervision.
